My Friend, Companion and Confidant...

Happy, Playful, Curious, Beautiful, Graceful, Strong, Devoted...

Glossy black coat and deep green emerald eyes full of love and devotion...

You were a cat of immense beauty, dignity and grace.....

You came into my life 17 years ago and brought me more joy than I ever imagined...

We had so many memories, happy, sad, funny...

Your undying devotion and friendship could never be matched by a human relationship.

The bond we shared was strong and true, no words needed to be spoken, our connection went deep into both of our souls. We understood each other and accepted each other as we were. You were by my side through some very difficult times in my life.

I will never forget all you gave to me and how much you brought to my life.

Although my heart is breaking, I release you to the Angels now...

May all your pain be gone forever...

Rest in peace now and wait for me my sweet boy until we meet again..

I will never forget all you gave to me...

My love for you will live on in my heart always...
